

SEND A CHILD TO SCHOOL INITIATIVE

In the world today the most valuable gift you can offer a child is education

About Vuyani

Vuyani is a place of safety for girls and boys up to the age of 18, who cannot live at home or who have been removed from their parents by the courts or social workers due to abandonment or abuse. Children are brought in by Vuyani's volunteer workers and given a place to sleep, a warm meal and assistance in stopping bad habits that are learnt on the streets. No child is taken in if they are not prepared to go to school.

Vuyani relies on public support and their own entrepreneurial skills to keep the home running. The children gumboot dance at functions, they make jewellery and necklaces to sell, and they grow vegetables to sell to the public.

Vuyani and Samara

Samara Private Game Reserve and Samara Wildlife Volunteer Programme have developed a close relationship with Vuyani Safe Haven in Graaff-Reinet. We invite the children out to Samara for environmental fun days, where we spend time out in the bush with them, teaching them about nature and conservation and having some fun.

Volunteers also spend time helping out at the Haven. In December the children will be coming out to Samara for a Christmas party, and we are raising funds to give each child a personalized present.

How you can help

It costs a mere $100 to send a child to school for a year (please see breakdown on sponsorship form). But for the Safe Haven, with 29 children and very little funding, this is a lot of money. If you'd like to send a child to school for a year by donating $100 to the Safe Haven, please select a child (not necessary if you don't mind who you sponsor) and complete the sponsorship form.
