

WINTER WARMER STAY 4, PAY 3

WHY WINTER?

A safari experience should never be rushed, and this is particularly so at Samara, where there are so many facets of the reserve to explore. Winter-time is the ideal season in which to relax into the Karoo frame of mind. Mild, sunny days provide optimal walking temperatures as well as unique opportunities for daylight sightings of the elusive (and usually nocturnal) aardvark.

Winter offers somewhat more accessible game-viewing as this is the dry season when wildlife gathers at the waterholes. It is also a photographer's paradise: the early afternoon sunlight at a lower angle in the sky is simply spectacular, and the snow-capped mountain peaks beyond Samara provide an ethereal backdrop. The perfect season for a leisurely all-day Samara Mara picnic (by helicopter or by road, it's up to you).
